

For the couples who love each other but keep losing each other to the little things.

Relationships rarely break from one big moment. They erode from the small, undone things — the dishes left in the sink, the effort no one noticed, the quiet tension that grows when one partner feels neglected and the other feels unappreciated. Neither is wrong. Both are tired.

LoveLedger is a shared rhythm for the two of you — a gentle way to notice each other's contributions, share the mental load, and feel like a team again. It's not a scoreboard. It's a way home.

Notice

See the invisible labor — the plans made, the effort given, the care shown.

Balance

Soft bands instead of scores. A rhythm you build together, not a competition.

Appreciate

Private love notes, reactions, and weekly moments that say: I see you.

Built for two. Private by design.

Love notes and photos auto-delete after they're read. Your rhythm stays between you.

Available on iOS, Android, and web • $4.99/mo or $29.99/yr • Free to try
